SHORTHORNS . . .

The Shorthorn animal has a long and well established history of existence, being one of the oldest breeds known to man. Originating in the Tees Valley of England they have spread out to nearly every major beef producing country in the world. Their adaptability to nearly every kind of climate and environment is unsurpassed. They entered the United States in 1783 and have since influenced many and varied purebreeding and crossbreeding programs. "No beef breed can match Shorthorns for cross-breeding superiority. Many breeds make claims but study the records. Over 30 recognized beef breeds in the world today owe part of their parentage to Shorthorn blood. This is more than the white face and black breeds can boast on a combined basis. For centuries Shorthorns have quality marked their progeny infusing their daughters with more milking, quicker cycling, easier calving, and fine foraging traits. In addition they have infused fast and economical gains, grading and cutting ability into the most docile, easily handled beef animal in the world . . . Right now the Shorthorn—Polled Shorthorn breed cannot begin to supply the demand for its bigger-sized bull productions. Fully 85 percent of all Shorthorn bulls sold this past auction season went for crossbreeding. Invariably the buyer states that he "wants to restore more of the milking and gaining ability he once had before using other breeds." Currently the Shorthorn female is enjoying a great demand from those engaged in production of "exotics." The evidence from numerous on-the-farm and on-the-ranch comparisons indicate that the Shorthorn-exotic cross rates the highest with the cattlemen."*

It is the responsibility of the purebred Shorthorn-Polled Shorthorn breeder to continue breeding the characteristics that have given the breed their appeal. Along with increasing the size and scale of our animals we need to be sure that we carry along with it, ease of calving, milking and mothering ability, fast gainability, high cutability, ease of handling, etc. to assure continued and expanding popularity of our cattle. Remember—all purebreeding and crossbreeding programs start with pure-bred and registered animals and we, as pure bred breeders, must see to it that they are correct animals and are truly what we know as SHORTHORN.

Pennsylvania Shorthorn & Polled Shorthorn Breeders

(Refer to pages 5, 7, 9, 13 and 15 for Breeders' names)

WHY BUY SHORTHORNS?

- Shorthorn bulls are active, sure breeders.
- Shorthorns put more growth into their calf crops.
- Shorthorns are historically known for their faster gaining and finishing ability. The demand for Shorthorn and Shorthorn crossbreed feeders far exceeds existing supplies. Consequently, they sell for a premium.
- Shorthorn bulls put more milking ability into their daughters . . . this means heavier weaning weights.
- Shorthorn docility is world famous making them ideal projects for youngsters.
- Shorthorns are known as "The Great Improvers". Shorthorn crosses have been proven in test after test to be superior to other crossbreeds in milking ability, rate of gain and feed efficiency.
- Ask yourself why so many commercial herds are now crossbreeding with Shorthorns? It's because they are best in every weigh?

Rosewood Mary 2892-465, and her first daughter, HDG Morna Mary 3011-350 (AA). She 15 and her daughter 12 with her 14th single (birth) calf at side. Stands 51½" at withers, weight October 11, 1971, 1,230 pounds.

The maternal grandmother of Belle Meads Brigadier. Has 3 daughters in production in the herd and all were strong AA cows under modern standards. Never weaned a bull calf under 500 pounds at 180 days without a creep; birth weights of her calves have run from 67½ for this year's heifer to 80 pounds for many bulls thru the years. How many can be thankful for a cow like her either in the past or the present? Classified A (76) at 13½ years of age also under modern standards. How many would spend $125 per A.I. service to breed a cow of this age? CHALLENGE; I believe her to be Pennsylvania's queen of the yellow and white pedigrees (old form)!

Six Things

You can expect and genetically depend on with cattle purchased from this herd.

1. Near perfect udders
2. Minimum of calving problems
3. Reasonably good size
4. Performance records
5. Longevity
6. Exceptional ease of handling.

ASA APPENDIX REGISTRY

In April of 1971 the American Shorthorn Association established an appendix registry designed specifically to identify offspring of animals of other breeds that are crossed with pure-blooded Shorthorns and polled Shorthorns, and to give recognition to the commercial man who attempts upgrading of his herd. The first cross calf, (F₁), must have one purebred and registered Shorthorn parent. The F₁ animal must then be crossed with another purebred and registered Shorthorn to maintain offspring eligibility in the registry. Identification certificates are issued with each cross.

When crossbred bulls carry 15/16's Shorthorn blood a "certified Shorthorn certificate" is issued upon inspection of the animal for accepted Shorthorn characteristics. Females are similarly certificated when they reach 7/8's Shorthorn blood, but without an inspection. However, provision has been made for half-blood females (F₁) to enter the registry if they can be identified and with an inspection.

At the present time the plan is to keep the appendix registry completely separate from the main herd book of the Association.

CROSSBREED UPGRADING

1st Cross (F₁)—½ Shorthorn

2nd Cross (F₂)—¾ Shorthorn

3rd Cross (F₃)—⅞ Shorthorn (females eligible for certification)

4th Cross (F₄)—15/16 Shorthorn (bulls eligible for certification)
